DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 16 and 17A-E should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kanai et al., US 6,278,494.

In considering claim 1,

a) the claimed a high-frequency signal extracting circuit...is met second signal derivative generator 1 (Fig 1) which generates a an edge emphasizing signal S5 (col 1, line 31-52), by calculating a value of three neighboring pixels, where the pixels are multiplied by $\frac{1}{2}$, 1 and $\frac{1}{2}$ respectively where the neighboring pixels are subtracted from the target pixel and amplified via multiplier 1008.

b) the claimed an amplitude-restricting... is met by absolute value circuits 16 and 17 which provide the absolute value of the difference between the value of the pixel of interest and pixels before and after the interest pixel where the results (maximum or minimum) are provided to minimum detection circuit 11 (Fig 1).

c) the claimed an amplitude restricting circuit... is met by minimum detection circuit 11 which receives absolute value inputs S12, S13 and the absolute value input of S5 (second signal derivative generated signal), where circuit 11 selects the minimum value of the three inputted signals (S13, S12 and S7). Thus the output of the minimum detection circuit is not more than the absolute value of the second derivative generator signal.

d) the claimed an adder... is met by adder 20 which is added to target pixel S2d (Fig 1).

In considering claim 2,

The claimed wherein said high-frequency extracting circuit has the function of altering the amplitude... is met by multiplier 8 of second signal derivative generator circuit 1 which amplifies the result of the target and neighboring pixels (Fig 1).

In considering claim 3,

The claimed wherein said amplitude restricting signal generator... is met by minimum detecting circuit 11 which selects the minimum value of the signals S7, S12 and S13 which is then multiplied via multiplier 19 with sign detection signal (S9).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 6-10 are allowed.
4. Claims 4-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Brian Yenke whose telephone number is (703) 305-9871. The examiner work schedule is Monday-Thursday, 0730-1830 hrs.

applications. The tools currently available in the Patent EBC are Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) and the Electronic Filing System (EFS). PAIR (<http://pair.uspto.gov>) provides customers direct secure access to their own patent application status information, as well as to general patent information publicly available. EFS allows customers to electronically file patent application documents securely via the Internet. EFS is a system for submitting new utility patent applications and pre-grant publication submissions in electronic publication-ready form. EFS includes software to help customers prepare submissions in extensible Markup Language (XML) format and to assemble the various parts of the application as an electronic submission package. EFS also allows the submission of Computer Readable Format (CRF) sequence listings for pending biotechnology patent applications, which were filed in paper form.
